RE: Communications Structure during the COVID-19 Pandemic

In an effort to better respond to the needs of the state’s public water supplies during this time, with resources limited due to teleworking and the state’s “Shelter-in-place” order, the Bureau is offering direct lines of communication via email for our various areas within the organization. We believe that this will allow you to have answers to your questions in a more efficient and timely manner. Staff will return your email or call you at their earliest convenience.

Table with 3 columns: Topic, Water Supply Staff, and Email. Rows include Boil Water Notices, Sampling Results, Operator Certification, and Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund.

You may call the number below for items not listed or when there is no access to email, or you may contact your regional engineer for assistance (see attached map).
